

Saint Felix Nursery Newsletter

11th May 2018

Dear Parents and Guardians,

This week in the Nursery we had a mermaid theme. The older children made mermaids or mermen to create a display and the younger children have been making fish tails out of playdough to put on Duplo people!

We had a variety of activities out to encourage the children to use descriptive words for different textures in their play. We mixed the sand with shaving foam, used sequins in playdough and explored shells, gems and stones, thinking about what they felt like. We supported the children in their play, developing their vocabulary and building on their language and communication skills.

Letters and sponsorship forms went out this week informing you of our bike ride/buggy push event, letting you know which day to bring in your child's buggy or bike. Come and speak to me if you have any difficulty with this, so I can provide a buggy or bike in order for the event to run smoothly. Please collect as many sponsors as you can to support our Nursery. Thank you.

Southwold Festival

Please be aware that the fifth annual Southwold Arts Festival will run from 23rd to 30th June. There are lots of talks, recitals and other activities with a programme of events and tickets available from the festival's website <http://www.southwoldartsfestival.co.uk/>

Please note that Polly Chan, Year 8, will be giving a piano and trumpet recital on Tuesday 26th June at 1:15pm at the United Reform Church in Southwold. Polly is an outstanding musician and tickets which are priced at £6.00 seem outstanding value.

Mr Harrison will be giving his own talk on Romano-British History: Resistance and Revolt: Boudicca, Queen of the Iceni also on Tuesday 26th June at 11:00am at the Southwold Arts Centre with tickets still available (just!!) at £7.50. Mr Harrison has given a number of talks on various aspects of Roman History throughout the country and this talk was derived from a chapter of his recently published book which can now be bought from Amazon or directly from the publisher Bloomsbury (links below). The book is co-authored with two other Roman historians and it has proven to be a good introduction to all aspects of Roman History.
